

*Tim G.Gettin' in the GameSM Athlete (since 2003)My sports: Climbing, Cycling, SwimmingHemophilia AMy life at a glance

I live with my wife, Abby, in Littleton, Colorado, where I enjoy exploring the local mountains. I attended the University of Denver on a 4-year athletic scholarship and received my postgraduate degree from Denver Seminary. My athletic accomplishments include:

- Setting 5 high school swimming records and 5 collegiate Division I swimming records
- Being the first person with hemophilia to climb all 56 of the mountains in Colorado that are above 14,000 feet
- Participated in the 2014 Triple Bypass, a 120-mile road bike ride from Vail to Evergreen, Colorado, over Vail Pass (10,560'), Loveland Pass (11,990'), and Juniper Pass (11,140')

I now work as a Project Manager. When I'm not attending Gettin' in the Game programs, I enjoy traveling the world and mentoring emerging community leaders.

My preferred topics

- Overcoming adversity—never giving up in the midst of difficulty
- Dreaming big and accomplishing your goals
- Pushing your limits
- Leaving a legacy
- Competing in athletics and participating in challenging outdoor activities

My message to you

"Participating in sports is not just about winning—it's about how you play and who you become."

—Tim

Common
Factors[®]